

Prize Award Night Set for January 30

Chamber Joins with Desert Sun in New Annual Contest

First annual Amateur Photo Contest ever to be staged in the desert area including the high desert as well as Indio all the way to the Salton Sea and the Colorado River—was underway today with valuable prizes to be awarded the winners in more than a dozen categories.

The photo contest which is co-sponsored by The Desert Sun and the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce was inspired by photographic dealers and manufacturers who will meet in convention at El Mirador hotel January 30, the day the contest pictures will be judged. The convention itself will continue for four days.

ALL AMATEUR photographers are asked to enter the contest. There is no fee involved in the entry of any picture except that the picture submitted to The Desert Sun will not be returned to the sender and becomes the property of this newspaper. It was explained that the negative need not be sent to this newspaper. The picture, however, will be used by The Desert Sun as it sees fit.

W. E. Griffith, president of Griffith Photo Service in Los Angeles, who is host of the convention, pointed out that it would be best for those contestants who enter pictures to have them enlarged to eight inches by ten inches.

"However, that is not absolutely necessary and no one needs to have expensive cameras to take excellent pictures," said Griffith.

HE LISTED THE various categories. Among them were scenic photos, pictures of animals, gardens, children, human interest pictures, color shots in transparencies, and printed pictures in color.

Griffith added that the desert is a "natural paradise" for photographers, offering hundreds of different themes and views, with the sun and shadows changing the scenery every hour.

The Grand Prize Winner will receive a beautiful Perpetual Sweepstakes trophy from The Desert Sun, in addition to expensive camera equipment. Division winners also will be awarded valuable cameras and supplies.

WARD J. RISVOLD, Desert Sun publisher, and Earl Hough, president-elect of the Chamber of Commerce, invited everyone to submit entries.

"Everyone, regardless of age, has an excellent chance to win," they pointed out.

Judges will be top photographic dealers and manufacturers of the country, who will be at the convention.

All entries should be sent to the Photo Editor, The Desert Sun, Palm Springs, or delivered in person at The Desert Sun, The Center.

NEW YORK — Actress Marilyn Monroe has ended a one-year feud with Twentieth Century Fox Studios and agreed to do four films during the next seven years on a "non-exclusive" basis, it was announced here today.

A public relations spokesman said the blonde star's first picture under the reconciliation pact will be "Bus Stop." Shooting is scheduled to start in Hollywood in February.

Cathedral City Protests Intercity Phone Service

CATHEDRAL CITY — Directors of the Chamber of Commerce here last night ordered their secretary to write a letter to the Public Utilities Commission protesting the poor telephone service between this community and Palm Springs.

This action by the Cathedral City governing body, came on the eve of an announcement that linemen of the California Water and Telephone company are starting today the stringing of miles of new trunk lines between Cathedral City and Palm Springs and between Palm

Valuable prizes are offered in each classification. Above is an example of excellent photography involving a child, Kater Rashall, which no

City Approval of United Air Plans Given

Palm Springs will file a resolution of intervention with Civil Aeronautics Board which will state their approval of plans by the City of Phoenix and by United Airlines to include Palm Springs in their air travel schedules.

City Manager Robert W. Peterson yesterday told city council at an informal discussion meeting at El Mirador that a letter from a representative of Phoenix said they had petitioned CAB asking that a plan to include Palm Springs in their regular Phoenix to Los Angeles flight be approved.

United Airlines had previously requested that Palm Springs be included in their flight plan as a stop between Las Vegas and Los Angeles.

Peterson said the plans would be in keeping with an air service master plan for the Village, and recommended that council go on record as favoring the two proposals when a hearing is held at a later date.

Jackson's Body Found by Swiss Rescue Squads

Swiss rescuers today found the body of Richard Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Jackson of Tramview Trailer Park, Cathedral City.

The 34-year-old teacher at a U. S. Army dependents school in Munich, was buried under an Alpine snow slide four days ago while he was skiing with two companions.

His friends were dug out earlier, the only survivors of the snow slide that trapped an entire party of four Americans and two French skiers. Besides his parents, survivors include his wife, the former Peggy Blair of Mission Beach, California, and a sister, Joanne Lorenson, Lincoln, Nebraska.

SCHOOL LAND REQUEST PUT BEFORE PLANNERS

A 10 acre parcel of Palm Springs, owned by the city and immediately and eagerly wanted by the Palm Springs Unified School District Board of Education, will be the subject of a planning commission study as a result of direction of city council yesterday after a meeting of 25 policy-makers representing the city and school governments.

For the first time in the history of the present council, six members of that group met in open session with all members of the school board, members of the park board, members of the planning commission, and various advisory officers of those groups.

The land is in the Leinau Village district, a long rectangle whose 750 foot eastern boundary is adjacent to the present high school west boundary, and short side follows Ramon Road for about 200 feet west from Cerritos Drive. It is bounded on the north by city-owned, park board-directed Polo Grounds.

ACCORDING TO A master plan presented by Dr. Wallace Mueller, superintendent of schools, it would be used for an auditorium and music classroom building and parking lot in the southern sector, and a football arena and parking in the northern sector.

The auditorium, according to the school board-approved plan, would be situated mainly on the present school property, and partially on the parcel in question.

Such a situation would block off Cerritos Drive and the parking lot adjacent to that. All parking for football and auditorium activities would be taken care of in the part of the ten acres surrounding the two structures, meeting less than half the requirements set forth by planning ordinances pursuant to parking.

THAT IS THE proposed plan in essence. The question put forth for discussion by Dr. Mueller in his opening address asked the city to approve or deny the school district the right to buy the property, or to deed the land to the district for joint city-school district use, and to be controlled jointly by the two groups.

In his preliminary presentation, Dr. Mueller said that the plan was made as the result of a survey for the needs on what he called a five-year plan, for the children attending the secondary schools in the district during that time. He said about 2000 students will attend high and junior high school at one time five years from now.

The superintendent said the plan had taken into consideration the undeveloped land to the east, Ramon Road to the south, the developed area to the north, and the section under discussion.

Pursuant to the general needs as expressed by the plan, the eastern section of the present school plant, Nellie Coffman and the high school, would be used for physical education and sports; the center section for general education, and the western sector for a football stadium, auditorium, music classrooms, choral practice rooms, storerooms for stage equipment, and parking.

Working Plans for New City Hall Almost Complete

Working plans for city hall construction are nearly complete, according to City Manager Robert W. Peterson, and should be ready for presentation to city council within two weeks.

Peterson, addressing council yesterday at an informal luncheon meeting at El Mirador, said he had received word from the architectural firms of Clark, Frey and Chambers, and Williams, Williams, and Williams that working plans have progressed to the state that they can be presented for approval at an informal information meeting January 16.

Peterson said he understood that the firms expect to have the plans ready so that bids by construction contractors could be let by February 15. He said construction would begin at the site, adjacent to the airport, quite soon after first bids were awarded.

Clarke Renews Offer of Land for Golf Course

140 Acres in Section One Listed in Plan

Conditions Almost as in First Offer for City Course

Noel B. Clarke, owner of the Ranch Club and subdivider of adjacent property, today renewed his offer of donation of land to the city for use as a municipal golf course, an offer which previously had been declined by the city's governing body.

The offer varied slightly from the original one made in April of last year, but conditions for acceptance remain the same.

It now involves the gift of 140 acres in the northeast quarter of Section 1, whereas previously 120 acres were to be donated, and an option on an additional 40 acres at $400 an acre taken by the city.

CLARKE SAID THAT 20 acres in this quarter already have been donated to the city for park purposes, and this also could be utilized by the city, if desired, for a golf course.

Conditions as specified before remain the same. They include: That the gift be acted upon in three months, with construction of the golf course to start within one year after acceptance, and completion of the project to be within three years.

Clarke, in submitting the offer by letter, protested the combining of the acquisition of land and construction of the course, at a combined figure of $750,000, to be submitted to the voters in a bond issue election February 14.

THE WELL KNOWN sub-divider of land kept referring to Section 26 in his letter, where council has been considering purchase of land for golf course purposes. The bond issue, though, would not specify any definite site.

Regarding the recommendation of William Bell, golf course architect retained by the city for inspection of all possible sites, which termed Section 1 as least desirable of all, Clarke said that he does not believe there is "$350,000 differential in value between the two (26 and 1 locations)."

Estimated cost of land in Section 26 is $400,000.

Answering Bell's statement made earlier last year that Section 1 has rocky, gravelly soil condition and it is apparent that wind is quite strong at times causing wind erosion, Clarke said that "in the same general area as Section 1 we have beautiful lawns, trees and shrubs at the Racquet Club, Bonaire and the Ranch Club, as well as other hotels and individual homes, and we are now in the

Probe Effort to Sabotage Huge Plane

FBI Called in by CAA as Incendiary Device is Found

PITTSBURGH — The Civil Aeronautics Authority asked the FBI today to help determine whether an "incendiary device" found aboard a Trans World Airlines passenger plane last night was meant to sabotage the aircraft.

Louis Reinhold, supervisor of the CAA district office here, said federal explosives experts still were running tests on the small cylindrical object taken from the plane when it landed at Ohio County Airport at Wheeling, W. Va., last night with 32 passengers.

"If the object is found to be an explosive, we will assume an attempt at sabotage and formally request the FBI to take over the investigation," Reinhold said.

THE OBJECT, about the length of a cigarette, and about the diameter of a nickel, was described as "some sort of incendiary device" by Capt. Gilbert A. Sather of the 14th Army Ordnance Detachment here. Sather ran preliminary tests on the cartridge-like device and said it contained "an inflammable powder, had a percussion cap on one end and a blowout plug on the other."

The device was about 2 1/2 inches long and had a metallic sheath. Sather said the powder burned with a brilliant flame. "It turned it over to explosives experts at the Federal Bureau of Mines Laboratory at nearby Bruceton, Pa., for further tests. He said he was not at liberty to say whether it was a "commercial or homemade" device but admitted "maybe it could have been homemade."

THE CARTRIDGE was found by the TWA pilot in the aisle of the twin-engine plane's cargo section soon after takeoff from Columbus en route from Chicago to Washington. The pilot reported his find to authorities on landing at Wheeling, about 4 miles west of here.

Sather said the device could have been ignited by a sharp blow. According to Reinhold, the plane was searched at Wheeling airport by the crew, airport manager and the control tower for similar objects, but none was found after looking in all places accessible to passengers.

President to Submit New Farm Plans

Prepares Message to be Submitted to Congress Monday

By MERRIAM SMITH
United Press White House Writer
KEY WEST, Fla. — President Eisenhower will submit a new farm program to Congress next Monday, the White House announced today.

The President will submit a special message to the House and Senate following shortly after his State of the Union Message which will be delivered to Congress tomorrow.

Mr. Eisenhower agreed in mid-December meetings with the GOP congressional leadership that new steps to cope with sliding farm prices should be given "top priority" in this session of Congress.

MR. EISENHOWER has done some work on the agriculture message since he arrived here Dec. 28 and Press Secretary James C. Haggerty said today the President would do more work on the farm program before the message goes to Congress.

The President Tuesday got two big jobs behind him — completion of his State of the Union message and the annual federal budget message.

The State of the Union message will go to Congress Thursday. It will be read by Senate and House clerks because Mr. Eisenhower's doctors have advised him to stay here until the weekend to get as much outdoor exercise as possible.

THE WHITE HOUSE announced that the government budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 will be sent to Congress Jan. 16.

Thursday, shortly before Congress gets his State of the Union message charting his legislative program for 1956, the President will meet at breakfast here with the president elect of Brazil, Juscelino Kubitschek. The Brazilian official is flying here on the first

Says Russia Has Fantastic New Weapon

Sen. Jackson Warns of Soviet Activity on New Designs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today the Russians are working on weapons "even more fantastic" than the intercontinental ballistic missile.

He would not say what they are but the intercontinental ballistic missile would be a weapon of such deadliness and great range that it generally is referred to as "the ultimate weapon."

Jackson is chairman of the Atomic Energy Military Applications Subcommittee. He noted that, as such, he receives high-level, secret briefings on weapons developments in the atomic field.

Jackson said he is "inclined to believe" the Russians already have a ballistic missile, possibly not one of full range but some of 1,500-mile range. Even the short-range one, he said, "would be able to neutralize North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Europe and virtually all our Strategic Air Command bases."

Jackson described a full-range ballistic missile as one which would be able to travel 5,000 miles in 30 minutes with "a high degree of accuracy, carrying an H-bomb warhead equivalent to millions of tons of TNT."

U. S. development of a full range missile is believed to be five years away although there have been recent encouraging technological advances.

Nat King Cole, King of Song to Open at Chi Chi Friday

The nation's No. 1 stage attraction will open at the Chi Chi Friday night, supported by an all-star show.

The famed Starlite Room is expected to be packed with entertainment lovers every night during Nat King Cole's stay. This has been the experience in night spots throughout the country where the popular singer has appeared.

Irwin Schuman is following the current top show of Beatrice Kay, Paul Gilbert and Jimmy Ray with the King of Song himself, Nat King Cole, and it's sure to be another winner in entertainment.

According to Emmons, Wesley A. D'Ewart, assistant Secretary of the Interior, has indicated that representatives of the two agencies will send a group here to discuss the lease issue with Indians and city officials. He said as soon as arrangements can be made, the party will journey to the Village and confer with interested parties.

Faure Calls for Truce in Political War

By WILBUR G. LANDREY United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure called today for a broad truce between the feuding French parties of the center "to save the republic" from the Communists and the forces of anti-tax leader Pierre Poujade.

But he frankly admitted he little hope himself of leading any new coalition as France's next Premier, since his government now has only a caretaker status and will resign formally when the new National Assembly convenes Jan. 19.

FAURE MADE his proposal after conferring with his lame duck Cabinet to study the results of Monday's national elections which left France divided as never before and threatened its role in world affairs.

IN AN EFFORT to heal this rupture Faure invited Mendez-France to end their feud and come into a coalition with other moderate parties to head off the threat of government chaos posed by the Communists and Poujadist gains.

Faure said the new coalition should include the Socialists on the left, the rightist Independents of Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, and all in between.

Faure spoke at a lunch meeting of the French Press Association. Seriousness of the mounting crisis, was emphasized by Poujade, the smalltown shopkeeper who rose overnight to political power. He served notice his 51 deputies would paralyze Parliament if it did not do his bidding.

asking, "How available is the land?"

DISCUSSION STARTED among the various group members.

Harold Hicks, planning commission: Are there State prohibitions to which the uses under a joint agreement would be blocked?

John Miller, chairman of the planning commission: Can the city use the same auditorium as the school for their conventions?

Muelder: The auditorium is proposed as a meeting place for school activities.

Helen Staley, school board: Does the city want this to be a convention hall for city use primarily?

JOHN MILLER: At the present time, the Plaza Theater is being used for majority of meetings, and it is not large enough.

Muelder (After other questions): The seating capacity of the proposed auditorium is planned at 1,200.

John Miller: Would it be in use every day?

Muelder: For events like the senior class play, the building would be needed for rehearsals. (At a later time Muelder stated that the auditorium would be in use about 50 per cent of the school session hours, or less, and the rooms adjoining it about 90 per cent of the same period.)

B. F. Shearer, park board, Home Owners League: I think it's wonderful that this group can get together to decide the outcome of something so important to all of us. I feel that the combined use of the school district's auditorium and a city owned convention hall used to supplement it is very reasonable.

Hicks: The use of property which has lain dormant a long time is very wholesome.

RUTH HARDY, councilman, park board: This land is part of the 40 acres originally planned for athletic use for this city when its population reaches 50,000. (Her talk in essence said that if the football field could be used jointly and was in the best interests of the over-all athletic program endorsed by the park board, she approved it.)

As discussion continued, points made by various speakers tended to become more and more detailed. Some of the topics concerned the use of the proposed auditorium for displays and conventions at which there would be smoking and drinking. It was pointed out that the hotels can take care of celebrants, and that as far as a confusion in dates, many conventions are scheduled ahead as far as two years, and the date pinpointed.

"I HAVE BEEN talking with other golf experts who indicate that in their opinion the location in Section 1 would lend itself from a wind standpoint just as well to the construction of a golf course as the locations of the present Thunderbird and Tamarisk golf courses," Clarke continued. "Trees and buildings do a great deal to lessen wind disadvantages."

"Incidentally, we are planting a mile of tamarisk trees along the west boundary of Sunrise Way. It would only be necessary for members of the city council to examine the landscaping around the Racquet Club, Bonaire and the Ranch Club, as well as the parks referred to herein in Desert Park Estates, for them to realize that flowers, trees, shrubs and lawns can be grown in Section 1."

CITY MANAGER R. W. Peterson received Clarke's offer this morning, and will submit it to council at its next regular meeting January 11.

"It will certainly be considered by council," he commented.

At the January 11 meeting, all items will be finalized for the bond election. Up to that time, all proposals have been under discussion only.

OFF-THE-FARM JOBS — An interesting sidelight "farm problem," which is really a complex of related problems, is the fact that many farmers are earning extra money away from the home place.

This is noteworthy because it eases the pressure on farmers who are caught in a tightening squeeze between lowered income and a steady or rising cost of living. It is also important because of the changes it is bringing in rural life.

Back in 1947, says the department, farmers earned only 22 per cent of their income away from home. By 1952, off-the-farm income had risen to 26 per cent of the total. Last year it was up to 28½ per cent, and this year it will be an estimated 32 per cent.

The U.S. Census Bureau says that 36½ per cent of all our farm residents are working at non-farm jobs this year. Five years ago the off-the-farm workers totaled 30.1 per cent of farm dwellers, while in 1940 only 21.4 per cent of farm residents worked elsewhere.

The trend is clear. Its import — the nature and extent of its impact on rural America and, for that matter, on our whole economy — is not nearly so clear. But certainly it is a trend for Congress to bear in mind when our new farm legislation is written.

A REAL CURB ON SPEED — Connecticut, "The Land of Steady Habits," is opposed to anything so unsteady as reckless driving. This explains Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff's ordering authorities to suspend immediately for 30 days the license of any driver convicted of speeding. A second conviction brings suspension for 60 days.

This drastic action is caused by the alarming rise in the death rate on Connecticut highways. Before 1955 was over, it had passed the 300 mark, as against 234 deaths in 1954.

Other states report a like increase, but few have done anything so drastic as Gov. Ribicoff. The states which are still playing around with wrist-slapping may yet have to adopt punishment serious enough to cause drivers to think twice.

Unfortunately many law enforcement bodies seem to have the attitude, "Drastic steps are really unnecessary. There may be occasional accidents, but they don't happen to anyone we know." But they do happen to people other folks know.

Cortland (N.Y.) Standard — A drive for funds that is now getting under way across the nation deserves the support of everyone. This is a campaign to raise money for a memorial bell tower to the late Senator Robert A. Taft and to the integrity in public office that he insisted on and exemplified to such a high degree...

The Foundation is being administered by business and political leaders of both parties, joined together in a non-partisan effort to honor a man and the principle of good government. Contributions should be sent to the Robert A. Taft Memorial Foundation, Inc., 109 South Webster Street, Madison, Wisconsin. The contributions of the people can help build a living monument to integrity in public office.

THE OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK — In Colchester, a town in England, Mrs. Emmeline Nicholas celebrated her 101st birthday by planting a batch of seeds to grow Auricula, a type of primrose. The climate of Colchester being what it is, it will take two years before the auricula flowers bloom.

Younger people, perhaps, would lead more pleasant lives if they would take the same optimistic view possessed by Mrs. Nicholas.

Lawrenceville (Va.) Brunswick Times-Gazette — ... President Eisenhower stated it for the whole nation to hear when he said: "More frankly, perhaps, than in less disturbed times, we are beginning to acknowledge that we need God's help. I should like to feel that, in every American family, some place is made for an expression of our gratitude to Almighty God, and for a frank acknowledgement of our faith that He can supply that additional strength, which for these trying times, is so sorely needed."

So, when you see or hear the message, "Give them a Faith to live by," remember that each of us needs to renew that faith continuously by regular attendance at the church or synagogue of our choice...

ANNUAL LAMENT

Thousands in person and Millions by TV
Looked on on Monday
The Big Show to see
A beautiful sight,
A parade fit for kings,
From all sorts of places
But not from Palm Springs.

I've brought up this subject every year about this time for the past decade, more or less. At first, the outcry was based on the fact that thousands lined Colorado Boulevard and other Pasadena streets to "oh" and "ah" as the Rose Parade passed by. Maintained that Palm Springs was passing up a publicity opportunity of great magnitude. Now that television is apparently here to stay and untold millions across the nation view that Rose parade on the first day of the year, the rapping of opportunity is much louder and when we don't lister, we pass up publicity of even greater magnitude. Somebody ought to start now to map plans to put Palm Springs in next year's Rose Parade. Via TV the publicity starts the night before and continues until the next afternoon — and sporadically, for two or three more days.

PERHAPS the boys in the state department of motor vehicles weren't so unkind to us after all when they assigned CX as prefix for new auto license plates to this district. I wrote the other day that if they couldn't give us SUN they might have allotted CV which also has to do with our desert. But was told by an optometrist since that piece came out that CX is the symbol for convex and convex in glasses means far-sightedness. So, with that CX we can take the long look ahead. The tramway up to the cool country, a wider bridge on South Palm Canyon, control of that traffic jam at the Y where Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue come together, a solution to our growing downtown traffic and parking problem. So let's be happy with CX.

SITTING before the TV set in Judge A. D. Mitchell's home Monday watching football, one of the MSU boys broke through and threw a terrific tackle on a Bruin. "That certainly was an earthshaking tackle," said the Judge. Just then that little earthquake of Monday rolled along. "Yeah, we can feel it here, 25 miles away," was my rejoinder. ... Speaking of that game, fellow remarked yesterday: "With MSU favored by six points and only a three-point spread at the end of the game, the guys who won, lost, and the guys who lost, won." And still in Pasadena, note where Henrietta, Oklahoma, is up in arms. The whole town was watching a national telecast of the Rose Parade, waiting for their band to appear. Just as it did, a commercial blotted it out. An official protest will be made to Gov. Knight from the Oklahoma governor.

WAS TOLD by a woeful looking Villager Sunday morning, "These modern inventions aren't so hot. Take refrigerators, for instance. I had to send to the ice-house for crushed ice this morning. The cubes kept sliding off my head."

LIBRARY NOTES

CORN

Once upon a time, a while ago, when Gilbert Highet's book THE CLERK OF OXFORD first arrived at the Welwood Murray Memorial Library, we discovered his wonderful essay on "kitsch." And we took it to heart because it said something quite relevant about failures in the world of art.

Imagine our joy to find this discussion of kitsch segregated and reprinted in 7 ARTS, NO. 3. Fernando Puma's wonderful collection of representative fine arts.

7 ARTS, NO. 3 will please those readers who believe that all creative products of man have a common origin and an inter-relatedness that makes them forever stand together. Music, for example — and to put it crudely, is a combination of sound and mathematics. The dance is a combination of music (sound and mathematics) and art, visual representation, and movement. These two examples could be multiplied innumerable times with an infinite mixture of ingredients and effects.

And seeing kitsch again reminds us that we have a message to deliver: a message of thanks. Did you ever notice how often the words that mean the most sound the corniest? In unexpressed thought and feeling they may be completely sincere; but only in the hands of the artist — or the completely innocent — do they develop sensuous verisimilitude. Highet says:

"The kitsch writer is always sincere; he really means to say something important. ... And then he chooses the wrong form. ... Either he picks an elevated and difficult style which he is not skillful enough to use, or else he constructs one of his own, mounts it, and falls off. ... It is like climbing Mt. Everest in order to carve a picture of Popeye the Sailor on the East face."

And then Mr. Highet gives several examples like the verse from Archibald MacLeish describing Harry Crosby and Ernest Hemingway:

He walks with Ernest in the streets of Saragossa
They are quite drunk their mouths are hard

They say que cosa.
He adds:

"It is really delightfully idiotic. ... The world is so full of masses of kitsch that our grasp can never exceed our reach."

With full knowledge that it is going to sound like kitsch, pure unadulterated corn, the staff of the Welwood Murray Memorial Library wants to thank you, the public, for the kind and generous treatment you always accord us. And for all your special kindnesses during the holiday season.

This is the time that reminds us we never do enough, there is always more to do to give readers, students, searchers the things they need. It reminds us we can only answer your questions when we listen carefully to what you ask, when we pursue your inquiries diligently until you have the knowledge you want.

We extend our facilities — and ourselves — to your interests. We are grateful because you come in, because you read, because you ask questions — and particularly because you enjoy doing it.

Kitsch? Perhaps. But how else can it be said? Trite things often sound trite because the subject matter is true. Underneath the corn it is something we want to say. Like thank you.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK—What burns me up about modern music is that I'm not writing any of it.

But I have to admire a couple of University of Florida pre-law students, Wade Buff and Gene Adkinson, each 21, who'll make around $50,000 with their three-year-old tune, "It's Always Tomorrow," which they practically wrote on the telephone to show some co-eds they could do it.

They and Eddie Newsom, 19, a bass player, and Lee Turner, a pianist, also 19—comprising "The Dream Weavers"—were just on Ed Sullivan's TV show before starting a night club career.

"You see we were double-dating," Buff explained at lunch yesterday, "and sang that oldie, 'How Many Times' to our girls, who were squares and had never heard it."

"We passed it off as if we wrote it."

"Later one girl said, 'My mother wants you to come to the house and play some of the songs you write.' She must have known."

"So we had to write a couple of songs to make good."

Adkinson made up a melody—didn't know enough about Tin Pan Alley to steal one—and hummed it on the phone to Buff who was going hunting in the Everglades.

"I wrote the words on the back of a swamp buggy," he said.

"You had a desk on the swamp buggy?" I asked.

"Just my knees," he said.

They played it on a little late-night radio show on the university station. "We got a lot of fan mail—six cards in one week," said Buff. "That's a lot of fan mail in Gainesville.

"We decided to make 350 records to sell to the kids at school and figured we could make $100 at least."

They'd begged Miami disc jockey Jerry Wicherer to play the song and he said, "If you ever make a record, bring it around."

He sure was surprised when they did. He played it—and he certainly got a lot of calls for repeats. He didn't know the boys and their girls were making the calls.

A co-ed, Mary Carr, sent word to Cleveland disc jockey Jack Randall that a "local girl" had made a record and asked him to play it. She didn't precisely explain that she was merely one of three girls singing the background music.

They sent it to some big publishers who said, "This song is crazy. The title doesn't come in till 16 bars after the opening."

"We didn't know it was supposed to!" said Buff.

Finally after 3 years the song began "making noise." Decca recorded it, signed the boys up as writers and artists, and it's sold over a half-million and is guaranteed by their manager, Budd Granoff, to become No. 1. They've quit school and are writing more songs.

"We're not like Rodgers and Hammerstein," the boys say. "If we can't write a song in 15 minutes, we throw the idea away."

"Where do you throw them?" this columnist asked greedily.

"Where are your arrangements?" they were asked when preparing for the Sullivan show.

"What arrangements?" they replied. "We just play."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL. ...

Dick Haymes turned down a song called "Rita, No One Else Is Sweeter." ... The Eisenhower-Marshall Zhukov correspondence has stopped—Zhukov didn't answer Ike's last letters. ... George de Witt's ex, Claire Kelly, flew to L.A. after a call from Frank Sinatra. ... Neile Adams, the cute singer in the Versailles show, was interned in a Jap prison camp during the war. ... Aly Khan's girl friend, Bettina, arrives in town in February.

Hefty Walker Slazak's gift from the "Fanny" cast: A scale that sounds a warning note at 280 pounds. ... Diana Barrymore's bio will be called "Too Much, Too Soon." ... Harpist Corky Hale told friends she's knitting tiny garments—A Bikini bathing suit. ... Dennis James reported he'll be a dad in the spring. ... Kefauver will enter the Illinois primaries, challenging Stevenson in his home state.

EARL'S PEARLS ...

It's easy to figure out the holidays. Christmas is when the trees are lit; New Year's Eve is when the people are lit.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's Mike Connolly's line: "A man is known by the company he thinks nobody knows he is keeping."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's been so cold in New York that the Four Lads saw a mounted cop and his horse take turns wearing the uniform.

Dick Duane reports his narrow escape—he was narrowly missed by a new car so long that it was ten minutes before he was out of danger. That's early, brother.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is making atomic history in the new budget he is sending to Congress.

He will recommend an approximate $600,000,000 increase for nuclear purposes.

This will give the Atomic Energy Commission a total budget of $1,800,000,000—the second largest since the establishment of that crucial agency nearly ten years ago.

That record budget was $4,152,000,000, which Congress voted in 1952 to greatly expand production facilities, particularly in the newly-developed hydrogen weapons and for power reactors.

The President will tell Congress his big budget increase is essential for maintaining the country's atomic leadership in both military and peaceful uses.

The latter will be stressed in the President's message, as follows: "The budget of the Atomic Energy Commission for fiscal 1957 provides for greater expenditures than ever before on projects to develop the peaceful application of atomic energy."

Four far-reaching developments will be singled out by the President for discussion:

The "important progress" made in 1955 in the atomic aircraft project.

The intensified efforts to harness the stupendous power of hydrogen weapons for peaceful uses.

The probable establishment this year of the international uranium pool for peaceful purposes which he proposed in his historic address before the United Nations on December 8, 1953.

The experimental atomic merchant ship he proposed to Congress last year, but which the Democrats rejected on the ground it would be an "expensive showboat."

The President will indicate willingness to accept a compromise on this project.

He will also report that the U. S. is continuing to expand its mighty stockpile of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons of all types and sizes.

It is for this life-and-death purpose that the President is primarily asking for the $600,000,000 raise in the Atomic Commission's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

This increase will make possible the continuance of a $1,900,000,000 annual nuclear spending rate.

That's been the operating level since Congress voted the record-breaking budget in 1952 at the request of former President Truman.

Portions of that huge appropriation are still being spent, and President Eisenhower's proposed one-half billion dollar increase is to replenish this vital reserve to maintain the annual expenditure-level deemed necessary for atomic leadership.

NOTE: The President's budget message will contain more information about the atomic program than ever before disclosed in this document. He will devote two full pages to the subject.

FALL-OUT—More than one earth satellite will be shot into space when that epic experiment is undertaken. The number will be closer to twelve. Military and civilian experts working on the historic project have authority to launch as many as a dozen of the devices. No one will be surprised if only some of them reach the desired heights.

Secretary of State Dulles is considering a compromise on the backstage issue of setting up nuclear training centers within the State Department and Pentagon differ on where these vital centers should be located.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A STOUT LADY stamped out of a weighing machine parlor in a very bad humor. "That new machine they have in there," she declared to a friend, "ought to be prohibited by law. It's equipped with a loud speaker. And when I stepped on to the scales it hollered, 'One at a time, please.'"

A Boston policeman waved a lady motorist over to the curb and complained, "Madam, why have you no red light on the rear of your car?"

"Officer," she answered angrily, "it is not that kind of a car."

In a Keokuk grocery store, two salesmen met. "I'm selling salt," explained one. "What a coincidence," said the second. "I'm a salt-seller too! Shake!"

A warm robe, a cheery fire and a steaming hot cup of good Carnation Chocolate Drink—that's my idea of the perfect way to spend these chill winter evenings.

Carnation Chocolate Drink is so simple and easy to fix. No fussing with syrups and ingredients—heat it just as it comes from the carton. Then, sit back and pamper yourself with its rich, luxurious, chocolatey flavor!

Hot, nourishing Carnation Chocolate Drink makes a big hit with my youngsters, too, when they come in cold and hungry from playing outdoors. And, it's so good for them! It contains almost as much calcium and phosphorus as fresh, whole Carnation Milk. Along with these cute "Snow Man" cupcakes, it's a perfect after-school treat.

Mix and bake your favorite white cake mix according to package directions for cupcakes. Cool. Make Seven Minute Icing and ice sides and top of each cupcake. Place flat semi-sweet chocolate wafer on top for "hat." Use semi-sweet chocolate pieces for eyes, nose and mouth.

Easy, Mmm, Mmm, Mo!
Here in America, we enjoy so many varieties of cookies that we've never really established a national favorite. However, did you know that cookies from other countries have very distinctive characteristics? This little verse explains the difference:

Cookies from France are fancy and iced—
German cookies are richly spiced—
Anise and almonds usually flavor the cookies of Italy—
Cookies fried crisp are a Russian treat—
England's are bigger and not so sweet—
We U.S. folks haven't settled on one—
Eating 'em all is such wonderful fun!

Of course, drinking hot Carnation Chocolate Drink is wonderful fun, too. It's chocolatey-delicious. And, it's so rich in milk nourishment—so easy to digest. Remember, there's no work. You just heat it and enjoy it. Try it soon.

Family Meets for Holiday in Palm Springs

Mrs. Jack (Georgiana) Hardy chose the La Paz as holiday headquarters for her widely scattered and busy family. Son Charles Glenn flew from his studies at Harvard University and although cramming for a forthcoming exam in Greek, managed to acquire a Palm Springs tan which will be the envy of the Cambridge set. Daughter Margaret, who graduated from Bryn Mawr last June is cutting quite a figure along Madison Avenue in New York where she is associated with the Eddie Fisher show. She has the "Cavalade of Books" show on KNXT television every Sunday. Last year she received the Peterson Award which is the cultural award of the Los Angeles TV shows. And if all of this is not enough — she also made the first hole in one of the season on the La Paz pitch and putt course.

La Paz Opens Plush New Samovar Room

Capacity business caused the La Paz to open their new dining room The Samovar, this week. This room, which was originally scheduled to open at a later date, has already caught on and was the scene of many dinner parties from the start. More formal than the charming "Spur and Sable" it features a gold, silver, and black motif, set off by one of the most elaborate collections of silver seen in many a year. Particularly striking is the tall, graceful Samovar for which the new room was named.

Recent diners there have included: the Ralph Shelleys, William Maloufs, Thomas Flemings, Jock Williamson and Mrs. Noble Banks.

Charles Belkins Holiday Here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Belkin and son, Harry 9, of Burbank came to Palm Springs with their friends Mr. and Mrs. George Wisnia of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Kunigonis and children, Joan and John, of Del Mar and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gillen of Los Angeles. The entire party were guests at the Desert Villa and on New Year's Eve, Mr. Belkin hosted a cocktail and buffet party at the hotel for all the hotel guests and village friends. The Villagers included were Mr. and Mrs. Al Alessandro, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaultillo, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ensalaco and Mrs. Ralph Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Belkin are the owners of a large furniture store called "Bells of Burbank" and their friends accompanying them here are in the furniture manufacturing business. The visitors will be here for another week.

Line Officers Party Thursday

Palm Springs Chapter No. 576, Order of the Eastern Star, will have their Line Officers Advance Night at the Masonic Temple on East Ramon Road tomorrow evening at 8 p.m.

Honored will be: Associate Matron Diane Philip, Associate Patron Harold E. Murphy, Conductress Lola Sherrill, and Associate Conductress Mary Clark.

General decorations and pin-ons will be under the direction of Lola Sherrill and refreshments will be in charge of Lolita Waller and Iva Mhoon.

Add a little ammonia to the soapsuds for cleaning the bathroom. The ammonia helps give a sheen to tile and will remove most stains.

A Ham Sandwich with a New Twist

CHICAGO — Turn leftover holiday ham into an open-face sandwich for a quick supper or late evening snack.

This one comes with tangy meringue topping.

Arrange a generous slice of ham on a slice of bread for each serving. For 4 sandwiches, fold one-third cup of salad dressing and 1 tablespoon of prepared mustard into a stiffly beaten egg white. Cover the ham slices with the meringue mixture and bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees) about 8 minutes, or until the meringue is golden brown. Serve hot with hot coffee and spiced crabapples or pickled peaches.

Dairy products such as cottage cheese and milk absorb refrigerator odors quickly. Keep them covered tightly during storage.

Sunday Night Buffet at Rock Point

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Braunschweiger, who have just completed re-decorating their Rock Point home, hosted around 100 friends at a Sunday night cocktail buffet.

Guests viewed the new additions, which include a studio for Mrs. Braunschweiger, a swimming pool and a sit down bar.

The Braunschweiger home was filled with weekend guests with some of them overflowing into Casitas del Monte. The guests were: the Virgil Davidsons of Los Angeles, Mark Walkers, Mr. and Mrs. James Braunschweiger, Mrs. Gertrude Detsch of La Canada, Rolf Lange of Munich, Germany, the Keith Carvers. Mrs. Dorothy Yaw, Everett Stancliffe and the Vernon Fays.

The home was beautifully decorated with a gold mobile, like a sunburst, hung with Christmas ornaments, providing interest in the livingroom. A bowl of Christmas balls surrounded by a wreath, and red candles in Chinese candlesticks, adorned the buffet table.

Harold Tonne played and sang, and there was Hi-Fi music, which is wired all through the house. Gertrude Detsch, who is an accomplished pianist, also played.

Among the many guests were: Mrs. Noble Banks, the Frank Camps, Carl Lykkens, Harrison Leusslers, Fred Ingrams, Barney Geggensbachs, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Woodmansee, the Billy Malouf's, Tom Flemings, S. P. Mannasses, Wally Brunmarks, Dorothy Hoover, Flo McKee, Glenn Thom-

"SANTA CLAUS TESTING YO-YO'S BEFORE DELIVERY"

Many of us consider Christmas a day when people aren't really themselves and act unnatural by being considerate and unselfish and letting their friends know how much they like them. I have a theory that this attitude is all wrong. I figure that people are really behaving naturally on Christmas, and not being themselves the other 364 days. I'd like to see the calendar manufacturers get together and let us have 364 Christmases a year. Then we could have one holiday (maybe on July 18th) "Nasty Day" when everyone could act selfish and rude and get all the aggressiveness out of their systems and maybe insult a few in-laws. That'd be more logical than the way it is now. And more fun too. Unless you happened to be Santa Claus.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (U) — In a collegiate basketball era where the seven-footer is becoming almost commonplace it seems slightly incongruous today that more "little" men are attaining real stardom than at any time since the big men took over.

The raves still go for such giants as seven foot, two inch Wilt The Silt Chamberlain. And the majority of the big stars range from six feet, six inches up.

But the "little" men — those under six feet — are having a field day this year.

SOME OF 'EM might even be classed as "real little." This would include five foot, six inch Clark Rolles of Cornell; and five foot, seven inch Jim Booth of Xavier of Cincinnati.

But you almost must class as "small" men at five feet, nine inches such as Bill Ridley of Illinois, Pachen Vicens of Kansas State, Chet Forte of Columbia and Terry Tebbis of Brigham Young; such 5-10's as Robin Freeman of Ohio State, Hal Perry of San Francisco, Jack Kubiszyn of Alabama and Ed Harrison of Richmond.

AND THERE SEEM to be a host of such 5-11 stars as Mark Binsten of Army and Eddie Petrie of Seton Hall.

Nor, in the cases of any of those mentioned above, are they simply members of the squad. They're varsity performers, first line players — and good ones.

Rolles, the midget from Cornell, is an All-Ivy Leaguer with a spectacular jump shot. The 144-pound Boothe was Xavier's second leading scorer last year.

Ridley, playing his third varsity year at Illinois, is the smallest Illini basketballer of the modern era — and the team's second leading scorer. Vicens sits in the same scoring slot for Kansas State while Tebbis is merely Brigham Young's leading scorer.

FORTE, WHO SCORED 23 points in one half against West Virginia, was named the Orange Bowl tournament's most valuable player. Kubiszyn made good as a sophomore despite his small size and San Francisco hasn't lost a game since Perry made the varsity in the third game last year.

Harrison, a 150-pounder, led Richmond's scorers last season and is carrying right on. And Freeman, in case you haven't noticed, is only the leading scorer in the entire nation.

HOW COME, you may wonder? The answer seems to be that high school players are getting even better coaching and most of the interscholastic competitors aren't. The 12-foot lane also has helped by moving the big man out of the slot.

It all adds up to a great incentive for the smaller lads and for those of the midgets with hopes, Coach Lou Rossini of Columbia suggests:

"Learn to dribble, keep driving, perfect an outside shot, keep on your toes and never relax — and sharpen your desire."

Because, as they're proving this season, the little men can make good in basketball in a big way.

Nixon, Sattler Lead Qualifiers

LOS ANGELES (U) — Gary Nixon, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and John Sattler, Whittier, were the qualifying medalists Tuesday as 270 golfers vied for the 69 places in the Los Angeles Open which starts Friday.

Nixon scored a 68 at Virginia Country club and narrowly edged a home-club amateur, Jim Ferrie, who shot a 69. Sattler shot his 68 at the Hacienda Country Club. Four pros were close behind him with 69's.

Among the pros who qualified were Bill Ogden, Milon Marusic, Bill Casper, Harry Dee and Ted Rhodes.

The golfers competed for spots in the $32,500 tourney on five Southern California courses.

MODERN GOLF

By DALE ANDREASON
Golf Instructor at El Mirador Hotel

Ben Hogan claims that the meat of his secret is the pronating or turning of the wrists at the beginning of the backswing. He also stated in recent magazine and newspaper articles that he consciously worked on the pronation of the wrists and let the rest of the swing be controlled by muscle memory. This muscle memory pattern accrued through many years of correct practice for Ben.

Byron Nelson, who is probably the greatest and the straightest driver that the world has ever known, also had a secret that seemed to fit his particular way of hitting the ball correctly. However, he stated his co-called secret in his golf book, "Winning Golf." The secret that Nelson had called for the shifting of the weight from the left foot to the right foot and taking the club back as much as possible in a square position, or as straight back as possible.

DAUGHERTY AND FAMILY GET SUN IN PALM SPRINGS

Head Coach Hugh Duffy Daugherty, of the victorious Michigan State University football team, his wife and son, are spending a few days in Palm Springs, "to get the sun and also get his breath back after the Spartans thrilling 17 to 14 win over UCLA in the Rose Bowl Monday."

The team took off for East Lansing this morning but Daugherty will remain in the southland to attend the NCAA coaches' convention in Los Angeles.

NCAA Sessions in L.A. Monday

LOS ANGELES (U)—The first of more than 1,200 representatives of colleges and universities were arriving here today for the 50th National Collegiate Athletic Assn. meeting, starting Jan. 9.

Also arriving were coaches for the 33rd annual American Football Coaches Assn. session.

NCAA director Walter Byers said some of the items up for discussion at the NCAA meeting would be:

1. Consideration of controlled television of college football games for 1956.

2. Discussion of possible new recruiting limitations on a national basis, rather than by conferences.

3. Consideration of a proposal to inaugurate a small college basketball tournament.

Three Teams in Three-Way Tie in Polo Matches

After three days of round robin polo at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds, by three teams, San Bernardino, LaJolla and Palm Springs, the scores ended daily in favor of one of the teams so by Monday evening each threesome had won a match.

Next weekend the various teams, excepting Palm Springs, will return to their regular line-ups and play match games Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m.

The various members of the teams were as follows for the Saturday, Sunday and Monday round robin:

San Bernardino: Ruth Handley, August Handley, and Monty Montgomery.

LaJolla: Jim Harrington, Martha Harrington, and Bill Allen.

Palm Springs: Arol Campbell, Shorty Funkhouser, and Guy Campbell.

Guy Campbell is in charge of the Polo Ground activities for the Winter under contract to the city. He plans to have matches each weekend, except rodeo weekend.

Marciano to Meet Newsman Today

LOS ANGELES (U)—World heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and his manager, Al Weill, slated a press conference for today to discuss offers the champ has received to work in the movies.

Weill said the conference would deal mostly with several proposed motion picture offers. However, he added some discussion would be given to Marciano's next title defense.

Tatum Debates Coaching Job at North Carolina

MIAMI, Fla. (U) — Football coach Jim Tatum left today for Chapel Hill, N. C., to discuss the vacant coaching job at North Carolina, out Maryland may offer him a fabulous lifetime contract to stay with the Terrapins.

Tatum, who built Maryland into one of the nation's greatest gridiron powers, was given permission by Maryland officials Tuesday to negotiate with officials of North Carolina, his alma mater.

But Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of Maryland, said here Tuesday night he will recommend to the university's board of regents that Tatum be offered a lifetime contract to remain. If the regents approve, the offer would be extended when Tatum returns from Chapel Hill.

Elkins denied reports that the lifetime pact already has been offered to Tatum, saying that the regents must yet approve. He also declined to say what the salary would be, except that it would be based on the university's athletic program.

Tatum, still hoarse from shouting during Maryland's Orange Bowl loss to Oklahoma, declined to hint which way he'll decide. "I have no comment other than to say that I have a good job at Maryland, and that I have permission from Maryland officials to talk to representatives of my old alma mater about the job," said the one-time Tarheel tackle.

A source in Chapel Hill insists that Tatum has been "in the bag" for North Carolina for several weeks, but Elkins' statement indicated at least his belief that the matter still is open.

Wait Until Next Year, PCC Battle Cry

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—Pacific Coast Conference football teams may whip the Big Ten teams during the regular season "exhibition" battles—but when the chips are down you have to hand it to the boys from the Midwest.

The records show nine victories in 10 outings against the PCC, and a point total of 252 to 93.

It's true that the Big Ten has "stolen" a couple of games in the last seconds of play during that stretch—but they have the stuff it takes to win or, as Eddie Erdtitz of Navy would say, "the desire."

In the pre-war days when the PCC held a big edge over all invaders in the Rose Bowl, the easterners used to cry:

"THE WEST should win. It trains in all that nice weather out there and doesn't have to go through a change in climatic conditions."

"Now the shoe is on the other foot, and the westerners are holering."

"The East should win. They are harder. They train in all that cold weather and get tougher."

When the Big Ten won the first three games of the series, some said it was "just a cycle."

But who ever heard of a 10-year cycle?

Actually, there wasn't much to choose between UCLA and Michigan State Monday in that spine-tling 17-14 victory for the invaders.

But even the most staunch UCLA rooters felt all along that the Spartans were going to win. The Staters just had too much power and speed in the backfield.

IT HAS BEEN that way through the last decade. The PCC gets off to a good start in the first half—and then sees the Big Ten rally to win in the last half.

But, as they say in Brooklyn: "Wait 'till next year!"

HARRY SMITH, who with his brother, Sam Smith, owns and operates two of the largest newsstands in the world, both located in Los Angeles, has become a Village resident and an enthusiastic supporter of the desert area.

Leading Newsstand Dealer Becomes Village Resident

Just suppose you wanted your home town paper sent to you? And it is published in Czaynyskai on the border that separates Greece and Turkey.

Well, there's a little guy in this town who spills words at you with the rapidity of a machine gun and, will no doubt bet you anything you may wish to wager that: "I'll get the paper for you and how many do you want?"

Harry Smith and his brother, Sam Smith, own and operate two of the largest newsstands in the world. One is located at 613 1/2 South Hill Street in Los Angeles and the other at the corner of Las Palmas and Hollywood Boulevard in the same city.

THE NEWSSTAND on Hill Street was the first in operation and started way back in 1922.

Harry, who has been coming to Palm Springs for more than 15 years, has decided that he wants to be a permanent, tax-paying citizen.

It was learned with one or two divergencies into how beautiful Palm Springs is, that he carries periodicals, newspapers and magazines from every corner of the world. There was a time when he even had Pravda on his stands. And the communists bought them too, declared Harry Smith.

It was also learned from stories that have been published about the Smith Brothers (not to be confused with the bearded ones who sell cough drops), that they also operate a foreign clipping service and translation department for people who would like to know what the newspapers in Barcelona, Spain, or in Stockholm, Sweden, had published about them.

SOME OF THE MOST prominent people in the world order newspapers from the Smith Brothers. Among them being the Prince of Japan, nobility of London, Sara Churchill and even today Charley Chaplin receives newspapers from the Smith Brothers. Franklin D. Roosevelt was another client as was William Gibbs McAdoo and many others.

"There are more celebrities at our stand in any thirty minutes of a day than can be found in most of the motion picture studios," Harry Smith said.

"But the heck with it. I love Palm Springs. My wife and I are going to move into our new home in Deep Well just as soon as it is finished."

Tokyo Rose to Gain Freedom on January 28

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said the notorious Tokyo Rose, who escaped a death sentence but was imprisoned for her World War II broadcasts on behalf of the Japanese, will be released January 28.

Iva Toguri d'Aquino began serving her 10-year sentence in the Federal Reformatory for Women at Alderson, W. Va., Oct. 6, 1949. The slim, University of California graduate is being released early because of time-off for good behavior.

She leaves behind her in Alderson a partner in treason, Mildred Gillars who beamed broadcasts to Americans from Berlin urging them to surrender under the name of Axis Sally.

American-born Tokyo Rose once received a tongue in cheek citation from the U. S. Navy for "greatly contributing to the morale" of American fighting men in the Pacific Theater. She could have received the death penalty in her San Francisco trial for her disc-jockey propaganda program that was liberally laced with sex and sedition.

Platinum-haired Axis Sally received a 10 to 30 year sentence for her wartime broadcasts to troops in the European Theater. She began serving her sentence in March, 1949, and will not be eligible for release until 1959.

Girl, 12, Rescued After 5 Days, in Good Condition

PASADENA (AP) — Gail McGaughey, 12, Altadena, was in "generally good condition" today after being rescued from the rugged San Gabriel Mountains where she had run away from her mother.

The girl was rescued Tuesday from a deep ravine in Rubio Canyon, about four miles north of her home. She was brought to St. Luke's Hospital here. Doctors said she was suffering from exposure and exhaustion and that her ankles were swollen, indicating they were broken or frost bitten.

Sheriff's deputies and members of the Altadena Mountaineers said she was found asleep. The girl had been spotted by a helicopter which directed the ground rescue from the air.

The girl's rescue ended four days and night's alone in which she had been exposed to freezing mountain temperatures. She was only lightly clothed.

Dismiss Suit Against Singer Billy Daniels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Superior Court judge has dismissed a $75,000 damage suit brought against singer Billy Daniels, 39, by a 25-year-old blonde showgirl who accused him of knocking her unconscious.

Judge Roy L. Herndon dismissed the suit Tuesday when the showgirl, Patricia Hirsch, failed to appear for the trial.

Identify Victim of Nevada Plane Crash

NELLIS AFB, Nev. (AP) — A 27-year-old Air Force instructor-pilot, killed when his P-56F Sabrejet crashed and exploded, was identified today as 1st Lt. James H. Guffey, Fresno, Calif.

Guffey's plane crashed and exploded Tuesday 20 miles south of Hoover Dam.

Diving ducks take off by running along the top of the water to gain flying speed; puddlers spring straight out of the water in taking off.

(Desert Sun Photo) NEW POST OFFICE at Thousand Palms was opened yesterday. Located on Ramon Road, just east of the Texaco station at the corner of Highway 99, the new building sets close to the road, and affords plenty of parking space. The new post office boxes and windows have not arrived as yet, but mail delivery will continue without interruption. Mrs. Eleanor Lennie is postmistress.

Last of Quads Given Slim Chance to Survive Today

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Doctors today gave the only surviving Hohenwarter quadruplet a fair chance to live despite his tiny size and weak condition.

Norman Charles Hohenwarter Jr., the first of the quads to be born and the heaviest, was the only one still alive today although physicians had first given all four a good chance of survival.

Carl Conrad, the second quad born to a young Lancaster couple Monday, died last night. John Philip and Mark Anthony died earlier yesterday.

Norman Charles, the heaviest at 4 pounds, 1 ounce, was the strongest of the four and had a fair chance to live, doctors said. He has been in an incubator since birth.

The three quads died within 38 hours of their birth to Mrs. Regina Hohenwarter, 26. Her husband Norman, 26, works as a $65 a week drug store and postal substitution clerk in Lancaster. The quads came as a surprise to the Hohenwarters who had been expecting twins.

Mrs. Hohenwarter was reported in satisfactory condition today. The quads were born four weeks prematurely.

Hohenwarter had returned to work yesterday but hastened to his wife's bedside when informed that John Philip, the first of the three to die, was failing.

The Hohenwarters observe their seventh wedding anniversary Feb. 16. They have two other sons, Stephen, 6, and Donald, 3.
